Brendan Bowles is certified as a Specialist in Construction Law by the Law Society of Ontario. Brendan is ranked as “most frequently recommended” in the area of Construction Law by Lexpert.

He acts regularly for a variety of clients in the mediation and arbitration of construction disputes, and has appeared at all levels of Ontario courts, up to and including the Court of Appeal. He has significant experience in various types of construction claim cases, including construction liens, delay claims, construction deficiencies and professional negligence.

Brendan is an Associate of Canadian Surety Bonding (A.C.S.B.). This designation is conferred by the Surety Association of Canada upon the completion of courses at the University of Toronto in suretyship, construction and surety law, accounting and business.

Brendan writes and speaks frequently on a variety of construction law topics and was formerly an instructor of Construction Law courses at Ryerson University and George Brown College in Toronto. In addition, Brendan has acted as an independent study director for the University of Ottawa Faculty of Law, Common Law Section, and a guest lecturer at University of Toronto, Faculty of Law.

Brendan served on the Executive of the Construction and Infrastructure Law Section of the Ontario Bar Association for 15 years, including as Chair in the 2015-2016 term. He is currently a fellow of the Canadian College of Construction Lawyers.
